Pastor's Corner

There is a simple yet important word that ought to capture our attention in today's gospel reading from St. John's account of the baptism of the Lord. The word is "behold." This is an important word in scripture as we heard several times in the season of Advent and Christmas. The angel Gabriel says to Mary: "Behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son." (Luke 1:31) The angel said to the shepherds, "Do not be afraid; for behold, I proclaim to you good news of great joy that will be for all people." (Luke 2:10) And today's gospel we hear John the Baptist say, "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world." (John 1:29)

The word "behold" is described as, "to gaze upon, to look upon, to hold or to observe." In hearing this word in scripture we are to stop what we are doing and pay attention. The speaker is offering us an important revelation of truth. In the spiritual life it is helpful for us to pause and behold the presence of God in the ordinary experiences and encounters of life, to behold the living presence of God each day because there is something God wants us to learn.

In today's reading we see the ordinariness of Jesus described as John the Baptist admits that he did not recognize Jesus as the Holy One of God. It was only through a divine revelation that he came to know Jesus as the Lamb of God. John notes, "The one who sent me to baptize with water told me, 'On whomever you see the Spirit come down and remain, he is the one who will baptize with the Holy Spirit.'"

Just before we come forward to receive the Body and Blood of Jesus in Holy Communion we receive an invitation to reaffirm our belief in the true presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. "Behold, the Lamb of God. Behold Him who takes away the sins of the world. Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb."

Scripture Scholar Sr. Dianne Bergant notes that the image of the "Lamb of God" is likely a reference to the Suffering Servant found in Isaiah 53:7-10. As the people of God awaited their savior there were many interpretations as to the identity of the Messiah. Some believed the Messiah would be a royal leader, others thought he would come from the priestly circles and others thought he would be otherworldly breaking into time and space in an extraordinary way. No one expected a suffering Messiah who would be led off to slaughter like an innocent lamb.

At each Mass we behold and reaffirm our belief in Jesus, the Lamb of God, whose body is broken and shared for the life of the world. This is the profound truth that is expressed as the priest breaks the host apart so the Body of Christ can be shared in communion. We behold and express our belief in the Blood of Christ poured out for the life of the world as a stream of reconciliation and hope gathered into the Chalice of Salvation and shared for the life of the world.

Because of the life we have received from Christ in baptism we see that it is not only we who behold God in a relationship of love but God also beholds us. God desires to be in a loving relationship with us and delights in us when we embrace our identity as sons and daughters of God. Sometime today, stand before God and present to him who you are at this point and time. What are your feelings and concerns, your hopes and desires? Then let God see you and let God tell you what He sees. What is it that God beholds as He gazes upon the being He has created you to be? Fr. Angelo

Healing Mass

February 26 - Mass begins at 6:30pm
Immaculate Conception Parish
2300 S. Smithville Rd.

This Eucharist celebration will focus on those among us who are in need of emotional, physical and mental healing. There will be the celebration of the Eucharist and an extended laying of hands upon each individual by the priests present and the healing team at the parish.

Confidence, Courage, and Commitment:

The Lay Vocation in the Secular World
Bishop Joseph Binzer will be speaking, hearing confessions, and celebrating Mass at this fabulous retreat to help us understand more fully the vocation of the lay person in the Catholic Church on Friday, Feb. 7th from 7 – 9 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 8th from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. This amazing retreat will be held at the very beautiful, newly-constructed St. Francis de Sales Church in historic Lebanon, conveniently located about halfway between Cincinnati and Dayton – a perfect location to welcome so many in the entire archdiocese! For driving directions see: stfrancisdesales-lebanon.org. Cost: A Free-will offering, so everyone can afford to come! Lunch will be provided to all who preregister.

To see the detailed schedule or to register visit: www.PresentationMinistries.com or call (937) 587-5464 or (513) 373-2397. Presentation Ministries is an official lay association under the Archbishop of Cincinnati.
