During this Year of Consecrated Life

you might like to get to know some of our Missionaries of the Precious Blood, the religious congregation that serves our parish. In addition to their many ministries, we have C.P.P.S. priests and brothers who are swimming instructors, bicyclists, photographers and love to read spy novels. Before they entered religious life, one was a machinist, another was a financial analyst, another studied geography. All bring their many experiences and talents to their service to the people of God.

To read profiles of C.P.P.S. priests and brothers, visit <http://cpps-preciousblood.org/media/meet-the-members>.

Pastor's Corner

One of the gifts we share in common with the saints who have gone before us in faith is the gift of baptism. At the time of our baptism we become children of God and receive a promise that God will be with us each step of our journey. In baptism we also receive a common vocation which is the call to holiness.

On this Solemnity of All Saints we celebrate those men and women of faith who lived the call to holiness so well that they can be looked upon as role models for us to follow. By the witness of their lives the work of God comes alive in the world and we see a little more clearly what it means to live the gospel and to participate in the building of the Kingdom of God. Jesus has given us all that we need to become saints!

The saints were not given any special advantages on how to live a holy life. Many of them struggled with the same temptations and crosses that we encounter in life. What makes the difference is their attentiveness to God's Word, their commitment to live the sacraments of the Church and their openness to persevere in faith following Jesus who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. And so, the potential is within us to become saints!

Today we are given the beatitudes to reflect upon and to put into practice as we seek to live the call to holiness and to become saints.

- ◆ You are blessed when you are poor in spirit, when you rely on the grace of God and put God first in your life.
- ◆ You are blessed when you mourn, when you mourn for your sins and ask forgiveness of God and one another.
- ◆ You are blessed when you are meek, when you are gentle instead of being demanding and domineering.
- ◆ You are blessed when you are merciful, when you offer forgiveness and let go of past hurts.
- ◆ You are blessed when you are clean of heart, when you live your life in a way that reflects your faith.

Every time you live the blessed vision of the beatitudes you allow the holiness of God to shine through you and the saints can be heard cheering each of us on to the victory feast of heaven.

Fr. Angelo

November 1-7th is National Vocation Awareness Week (NVAW)

In collaboration with twenty other parishes in the Archdiocese, a Holy Hour for vocations to the Priesthood and Religious Life will be held at Emmanuel Church on Wednesday, November 4th from 7-8:00 P.M. NVAW is a time for us to give special attention to the vocation, the call that God has placed in our hearts. We might live this vocation as a religious sister or brother, a priest or deacon. Perhaps we might live it as a mom or a dad, a husband or a wife. We might live this vocation as a single person. We all have a vocation. We are invited to understand how the choices that we have already made in life are an extension and call from our own baptism. During this Vocation Awareness Week pay attention to how God is calling you. What are the experiences in your life that you and God can look at together and see a deeper meaning that can in turn have an impact for your future?

We are especially mindful this week of the need for good and faithful shepherds for our church. Do you see qualities of service and an open heart, in any of your family members, neighbors or fellow parishioners? If so, invite them to consider a vocation to religious life and priesthood. Encourage them to come and talk with Fr. Angelo, Fr. Ken or Brother Matt. Together we can discern the stirrings of God's voice and take another step in the journey of faith.

Elizabeth's New Life Center is in need of medical professionals to volunteer in our Women's Centers. If you are an M.D., D.O., LPN, RN, Nurse practitioner, Physician's Assistant or RDMS please consider giving a few hours of your time weekly, bi-weekly or monthly to work with the underserved women in our community who may be at risk for abortion. Please email tmiller@elizabethnewlifecenter.org or call 937-226-7414 to talk about the possibilities!
