PASTOR'S PEN

Think for a moment. What is the deepest longing of your heart?

- To have peace in the world or within our hearts
- To be free of arthritic pain
- To have a broken relationship healed
- To be free of all worry

For Bartimeaus the deepest longing of his heart was to SEE. Think of how often he must have prayed for that day, keeping alive the hope that one day he would see.

And what about the remnant people of Israel we heard about in our First reading? For years they longed for the day to return home and now their prayer has been answered. Notice who is returning...the blind, the lame, the mother and those with child...the most vulnerable in society. Out of their weakness, God's strength will be revealed. Throughout scripture we see God using the most unlikely people to do the work of rebuilding his dream for humanity so there can be no mistake about who is doing the work of renewal.

The scene Mark's gospel offers us today takes us to the city of Jericho, a city rich in symbolism. Jericho was a city invaded by the Israelites and destroyed. As such, it represented a fallen city marked by corruption, sin and evil. In relation to the City of Jerusalem that sits prominently on a hill, Jericho sits very low in the topography of the region.

So, it is significant that Mark includes this story about Blind Bartimeaus in the setting of Jericho. Bartimeaus in a sense represents all of us who are lowly and live in sin. At times we take on the role of the beggar. In our hearts we desire to be lifted out of our troubled world and so we beg for God's mercy. Realizing we cannot make it on our own we cry out at each Mass...Lord have mercy, Christ have mercy, Lord have mercy. Bartimeaus reminds us of how important it is to surrender ourselves to the grace of God.

When Bartimeaus calls out to Jesus the crowd tries to silence him as someone insignificant, not deserving of Jesus' time. But Jesus singles him out and raises him to the status of everyone else. He may be physically blind, but he can see spiritually that Jesus is the Son of David.

Hearing Jesus' invitation, Bartimeaus throws off his cloak and jumps up, trusting that Jesus will heal him. This is something that we must do continually in the journey of life; to be willing and open to put aside old practices, our old self, in order to be healed, to see with new eyes!

The story of Bartimeaus can easily be our story. Over time our lives can become a robotic pattern of predictability which blurs our vision, living life on automatic pilot, failing to see Jesus in our day to day living. We can become blind through a selfish spirit or a controlling attitude which says everything has to be my way. We can stumble along the path of life if we have not done the inner work of forming our consciences with the Truth of scripture and the social teachings of the church. Maybe we are living in the darkness of a past hurt and cannot break free into the light of a new day. Whatever our blindness, Jesus can help us to see.

Jesus says to us today: "What do you want me to do for you?" This is our opportunity to place the deepest longing of our heart in the hands of the Lord and to pray for the wisdom to see as God sees, to throw aside whatever it might be that is holding us in darkness and to place our lives in God's hands, to put ourselves at the service of God's dream for unity as the Body of Christ.
