Local Disaster Relief Collection: Archbishop Schnurr has asked all the faithful in the Archdiocese to offer their support for the families who have been impacted by the devastating tornados that hit our area this week. A special second collection will be taken up next weekend (June 8-9) supporting the relief efforts of Catholic Social Services of the Miami Valley (CSSMV). While specific needs are being assessed, we anticipate a significant increase in the need for emergency food assistance and short-term financial assistance which will put a strain on CSSMV resources. Your prayerful support for all those impacted by these disasters is greatly appreciated.

PASTOR'S PEN

St. Luke tells us that Jesus appeared numerous times during the 40 days after his resurrection. Throughout this time, he was preparing the disciples for his departure from them so that the Holy Spirit could be given to them. The disciples found life in Jesus and they desired to stay in the presence of Jesus as long as possible.

One way to stay in the presence of Jesus was to keep his teachings close to their hearts. In his book "Tuesdays with Morrie," journalist Mitch Albom illustrates this point by sharing a conversation he had with his old mentor, Professor Morrie Schwarz, before Morrie died of ALS. Mitch asked Morrie if he were afraid of being forgotten after his death. Morrie replied that he wasn't worried. Recalling all the lives he had touched in his years of teaching Morrie remarked: "Love is how you stay alive, even after you are gone." And then professor Schwarz asked Mitch a question: "Do you ever hear my voice sometimes when you're back home? When you're all alone?" And Mitch answered yes; of course, he heard his old teacher's voice. He had internalized Morrie's voice, his values, & his presence. Even after Morrie was gone, Mitch would still be guided by his presence. (The Power of Empathy, 2000)

With the Ascension of Jesus, we see the earthly mission of Jesus come to an end. He now hands His mission on to His disciples; all of us who believe and carry the name Christian. This mission must continue until the end of time when Christ will come in His glory. Jesus expects us, we who believe, to be His witnesses to others; witnesses who are so credible that our very lives reflect our beliefs and give glory to God. As one scripture teacher reminded me, "Angelo, you may be the only bible someone reads." By this he meant that people are watching how you and I live our lives. Would they be able to read the Word of God through our actions, our speech, in our work and play?

Why would God entrust such an important mission to the likes of you and me, human beings who are sinful and weak? The answer can be found in the gift of free will that God gave to us. God is not going to force us to love Him or worship Him. Rather, God places a desire in our heart and draws us near through those who announce His Good News.

In order to be an effective witness, it is important to have experienced the presence of the Risen Lord. Without this personal experience our relationship stays at a surface level. The disciples recognized Christ and they knew He walked with them. His presence was not a mere memory of past events like Mitch's old mentor, but the living presence of Christ offering them the gift of peace. This is what motivated the apostles to action. They had a personal encounter with the Risen Jesus and through the gift of the Holy Spirit knew that they could not keep this experience to themselves.

As Mother Theresa reminds us, "we can do no great things, only small things with great love." When we treat others in a kind and respectful way we are responding to the call to treat others as Christ would treat them. This is giving witness to Christ and is something any of us can do.

As someone once observed, "our neighbors see us go to Mass every Sunday morning. But it's how they see us coming back that is our real witness to them."

On this Feast of the Ascension we celebrate earth and heaven coming together in a communion of life and love as Jesus ascends into heaven. Next week we will celebrate the Feast of Pentecost where heaven comes to earth through the gifts of the Holy Spirit. In celebration of the Feast of Pentecost you are invited to wear something red to match our liturgical color at Mass next weekend.

Health Ministry Pilgrimage Reflection

Fr. Vincent Chembakassery is in residence at Emmanuel Church. He is full-time chaplain at the VA Hospital in Dayton. In August 2018, severe floods affected his homeland in Kerala due to high rainfall during the monsoon season. Fr. Vincent has been very concerned about his family there. 1,000 people lost their lives and 1 million people live in refugee camps displaced by the flooding. Getting clean water continues to be a major problem. Fr. Vincent asks for our prayerful support for the suffering people in his homeland. Please keep Fr. Vincent's family and community in your prayers.

Reflection:

"Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow has not yet come. We have only today. Let us begin." Mother Teresa

Miles Totals - Exercise miles -156, Spiritual miles -940 for a total of 1,096 miles. Only 1731 miles to the doubled goal of 18,480 miles and I know you can make this.

Young Adult Missionaries in Need of Your Support!

Zach Stefan and Josiah Virnig, both high school seniors and parishioners at Emmanuel, have decided to give a year in service to Christ and the Church through serving as Regnum Christi Missionaries. Through their mission work, they hope to make an impact on the culture and grow in their faith by serving parishes, schools, youth groups, and families across the country. As part of this apostolic work, each must raise $12,000 to support themselves throughout the year. Will you consider becoming part of their support team? Any donation you can make is sincerely appreciated! If you are able and willing to help, donations can be made to Zach and Josiah securely online through the following links: www.gofundme.com/josiah-virnig and www.gofundme.com/zachstefanrcmc.

If you have any questions please contact Josiah, 937-520-8708 or josiahv37@gmail.com; Zach, 937-366-9421 or zachms7.0@gmail.com. Thank you so much for your generosity and prayers. God bless!
